Intercultural Coaching & Consulting

You are on the move between Orient and Occident. You work in an international team or live in a multicultural environment. That's exciting. And always challenging. How can cooperation succeed in the long term? What gives me security? Together with you, we develop a customized strategy for your intercultural concerns.

Regardless of whether you are an individual, a couple, a family or a team. With our team of experienced coaches and consultants we are available for you! We accompany you specifically in all aspects of intercultural living and working.

Prices and individual planning on request.

We distinguish between coaching and consulting.

Intercultural Coaching

You communicate with people from other cultural backgrounds on a daily basis. You know about the advantages of intercultural cooperation. And you experience misunderstandings and friction losses. You would like personal support from an experienced coach.

We come to your side. Listen to you. You define your change request. Together we set out on a journey. You gain access to your resources. Gain clarity. Develop a forward-looking strategy. With confidence and joy you shape your intercultural life and work in a goal-oriented way.

Possible topics:

- Cultural adaptation and cultural stress
- Dealing with differing values and norms
- Recognizing personal limits
- Discovering resources
- Developing resilience
- Conflict management
- Partnership & Family
- Crisis management
- Burnout
- Exhaustion

Interkulturelle Consulting: Well informed and excellently equipped

Your professional environment demands intercultural competence from you. You communicate daily in an international context. You lead people from different cultures. How can you create synergies? How can you optimize cooperation?

Our experienced team is competently at your side.

We analyze your situation. Consider your intercultural challenges and opportunities. Then we recommend suitable modules and building blocks. You gain valuable insights and sharpen your intercultural view. Excellently equipped, we then proceed to practical implementation.

In follow-up modules we evaluate the implementation. Celebrate successes and learn from the experience. This is how your intercultural cooperation succeeds in the long term.
